Another Table On Depository

BY TROY MARTIN

For the second week in a row, Randall County commissioners tabled a decision on a depository bank for Randall County for the next two years.

The court decided that none of three bids submitted last week were legal and then began negotiating with the prospective depositories.

Commissioner Bill Butler suggested that the county funds be divided among the three banks bidding.

"I know it's nit picking," said County Judge Carroll Brown, "but we don't have a single legal bid."

He said two of the bids were not accompanied by "good faith" checks and the third was accompanied by a cashier's check and not a certified check as required by law.

None of the bids were submitted in the manner prescribed in the statutes, Judge Brown said.

Bidding for the depository were Western National Bank of Amarillo, First National Bank in Canyon and West Texas State Bank of Canyon. First National currently is the depository.

West Texas State Bank bid maximum interest rate in its single bid submitted last week. This would be 5 percent on time deposits up to $100,000 and 6.25 percent on those above $100,000.

First National bid interest rates ranging from 4 1/2 percent to 5 percent on its first bid but in a supplemental bid said that if its primary bid were not successful it would pay .25 percent higher than any other bidder up to the legal maximum.

First National representatives contended this was equivalent to a maximum bid.

In a statement to the court Bill Adams, president of First National Bank, requested that his firm be named depository.

Adams said that if the bid were given to either of the two other banks bidding the

Booster Club Sets Meet

The girls play at 8 p.m. in the Canyon High School gym.

A club spokesman said several items of business must be discussed at this meeting.

Says He Would Ink Separate WTSU Bill

Governor Preston Smith said Wednesday he will not sign a bill creating a separate board of regents for West Texas State University if it is combined with a similar bill for another school.

Governor Smith told The News he will refuse to sign the bill passed Tuesday by the Senate if it should reach his desk.

The bill calling for a separate board for the university was introduced in the Senate by Senator Grady Hazlewood and then appended to Senate Bill 133 introduced by Senator Ralph Hall.

The Hall Bill would also set up a separate board for East Texas State.

"I'm not a lawyer," said the governor, "but I think we may have a constitutional problem."

"I want West Texas State University to have a separate board because I believe it deserves one," Governor Smith went on. "If it comes to me as a separate bill, I'll sign it."

The governor said he contacted Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes who presides over the Senate and informed him that we wanted two bills --one for West Texas State and one for East Texas State.

"Grady went ahead and sent up an amendment," he said. "I'm not going to sign it with both schools in the same bill."

"I think West Texas State is that important," the governor went on. "I want to have a ceremony when I sign it and have some people from out there here for it."

The university presently is under the jurisdiction of the Board of Regents, State Senior Colleges.

Proposed legislation would provide for a board of nine members appointed by the governor subject to Senate confirmation.

It provides that not more than two members of the proposed board shall be appointed from or be a resident of any one state senatorial district.

Legislation to establish a separate board for WTSU has been introduced into the

Would Form County Water Association

Randall County Monday took the first step toward organizing a water association to assist in bringing Mississippi water to the High Plains.

Charles Gerald, Canyon farmer, was named chairman of a steering committee which will attempt to put such an organization together.

Members of the steering committee include Earl Reynolds, John Brazzil, Carl Hartman, J. W. Spencer, John D. O'Conner, Christler, Crain, Charles V. Conatser, Alvin Kuhlman, JoZach Byrd, Troy Martin, Bill Adams, R. B. Gist, Jr., and Gerald.

The committee will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock Thursday morning in the Red Barn Cafe.

The steering committee was formed Monday at a meeting at First National Bank.

The group heard talks by Dick Godwin, Hereford, president of the Deaf Smith County Water Association and a director of Water, Inc., Bill Cleavinger, president of the Oldham County Water Association; and Tom Kendrick, a Hereford attorney who has been working with Godwin.

"Our water is depleting and wells are failing," Godwin told the gathering. "If we don't do something we will be in dire shape economically around here."

Godwin said the Army Corps of Engineers is making a study of Mississippi flood water surplus.

He said the feasibility of

Moisture Falls Over City Area

Some sleet--some ice--and some snow have made for treacherous driving and chill weather in Canyon the past few days.

At press time Wednesday, the moisture was continuing to fall in a light drizzle form in the city.

Temperatures, according to the weather records center at West Texas State University, had dropped Sunday to 11 degrees which was

Lindsey Honored By COC

Mayor Paul Lindsey was named man of the year for 1968 at the annual Canyon Chamber of Commerce banquet last Friday night.

The presentation was made by Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State University.

Dr. Cornette told the crowd of some 300 that Mayor Lindsey's public service spans more than 30 years in Canyon and began when Lindsey joined the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department in 1937.

Lindsey was born Jan. 14, 1913 in Jack County. His first job was shining shoes. He grew up at Post, moved to Slaton and then as a young-

BIT Production Begins Tonight

The Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State University will present "Variations on an Untitled Theme", which is a new trilogy by Willard Simms including three one-act plays.

The show is slated at 8:15 p.m. tonight, Thursday, through Saturday. Tickets are presently being accepted by mail order at the BIT ticket office. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students. The box office was opened to the public on Monday.

The trilogy of one-act plays include "The Acting Lesson" a comedy; "Miss Farnsworth", an unpublished work; and the tragicomedy "The Passing of An Actor".

Author of the three plays, Willard Simms, will be in Canyon for all performances at the BIT. Simms and cast members from the plays will be in the formal lounge after each performance for visitation with interested residents.

Simms started his writing career by enrolling in a class of playwrighting at the University of Denver where his instructor was Mary Chase, author of "Harvey", "Mrs. McThing" and "Bernadine" and other Broadway plays. He was among a select group of students to attend the Aspen Writer's workshop in Aspen, Colroado during the summer of 1966, where he received a playwrighting fellowship of $2,500 to the University of Oklahoma in Norman.

"The Acting Lesson" was written for students of Oklahoma University to present at the Southwest Theatre

Tourist Promotion Discussed

The tourist development committee of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce met Monday morning at Randall County commissioner's courtroom to discuss the "Land of Coronado" tourist promotion program.

Larry Milner discussed the project with the committee and reported that Canyon was one of five Panhandle cities participating in the tourist program for 1968. He stated that the program has been enlarged for this year to include from 23 to 60 highway billboard signs with a goal promoting 31 cities of the Panhandle and South Plains area.

Milner reported that the billboard promotion program has been presented to six area city Chambers of Commerce and that all had approved the program.

The committee approved a motion that the program be recommended to the Chamber board of directors

Shell Tosses Hat In Ring

A Canyon pharmacist and businessman has tossed his hat into the ring for place 5 on the Canyon City Commission to become the second candidate to file for that position.

Francis Shell of 13 Hunsley Hills Blvd., filed for the office Monday.

The place is now held by Kenneth Olsen, who was named to fill the position in May 1968. Olsen has refiled for the post.

Shell, a Canyon resident 11 years, is owner of The Shell's Pharmacy in downtown Canyon.

He said he has gotten into the commissioner race because "it's the civic duty of every citizen."

Shell has not previously served on the commission.

He came to Canyon from Wyoming.

Two candidates have filed for place 4 on the commission. Incumbent Felix Pierce will be challenged by Walter Shelly, an instructor in government at West Texas State University.

Deadline for filing is Feb. 28.

Girls Meet Slaton For Dist. Crown

The Canyon Girl Eagles face their day of reckoning Friday as they square off against the Slaton Tigerettes to determine the district crown.

The Canyon girls, winners of the first half, have only to beat Slaton to sack up the trophy.

But, the going may be anything but easy.

Canyon barely whipped Slaton 71-69 Feb. 11 after coming from an 11 point deficit to win.

Slaton proved almost too much in the last go-round for the Eagles.

Slaton led the girls 23-15, 41-30, and 57-44 by the quarters last time. At the end of regular play, the game was tied 63-63.

With just three seconds remaining in overtime, Canyon's scoring leader Pam Richardson plunked in two

All-State Choir and Band students left Wednesday for San Antonio where they will participate in convention events of the Texas Music Educators Association by presenting a joint concert for band, choir and orchestra all-staters on Saturday night.

Accompanying the band-choir students will be Gary Zook, CHS band director and Miss Linda Adams, choir director. Other music department personnel from CHS and West Texas State University may also attend. The all-state band students from Canyon are Evelyn Hadley, cornet, and Sarah Beth Meyer, baritone. CHS all-state choir students are Buddy Roland, first tenor; Hal Owen and Jerry Landrum, second tenors; and Terry Landrum, second bass.

40 Per Cent County Cars Inspected

Just 40 percent of the registered vehicles in Randall County had been inspected earlier this week, it was reported by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Capt. Alan Johnson, motor vehicle inspection supervisor for the DPS, said unless inspections increase, "long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches."

Johnson said Canyon's authorized inspection stations are "ready and capable of handling the inspection of Texas registered vehicles if owners will not wait until a few days before the deadline."

He said any driver operating a vehicle on public roads without an inspection sticker after April 15 will be operating in violation of the law.

Inspection stations in Canyon are at the following locations: Dorris Garage, Imperal Chevrolet, Jess Ford Co., Randall Motor Co., McBroom Garage, Stevenson Pontaic and Warwick Garage.

Inspection station in Umbarger is Donnell Garage.

Burglary Charges Are Filed

Two West Texas State University students were arraigned Tuesday afternoon on charges of burglary of an auto.

Stacy Pendergrass, 20, and Lannie McClain, roommates and Olton freshmen, appeared before Justice of the Peace W. W. Hancock, sitting in for Judge W. A. "Bill" Wilson.

Hancock set bond at $1,500 each. The two posted bond shortly after the arraignment.

Both youths waived examining trials and their cases

"MISS FARNSWORTH" (Celia Stack) daydreams of an African safari and John King and Jim Mickey portray their roles in the one-act production which will be among three by Willard Simms. The original one-acts will be presented February 20-22 in the Branding Iron Theatre on the campus of West Texas State University.

It's a tense moment for the wife of the coach. Mrs. Dennis Walling watches breathlessly while the Buffaloes edge to a 93-91 double overtime victory over New Mexico State.

Overtime Thriller

BUFFS NIP AGGIES

It took the West Texas State University two overtime periods Tuesday night, but they came through with their most brilliant game of the season in defeating the New Mexico State Aggies.

In 10 minutes of overtime the surprising Buffs finally brought it off 93-91.

The Buffs this time held the cap on hot shooter Charley Criss and played their finest defensive game before a record crowd of more than 4,000.

Playing without the aid of big man Simmie Hill during the two five-minute overtimes, the Buffs nevertheless let the Aggies know they were hot under the collar after NMSU's 69-68 win Saturday night in Las Cruces.

It was a matter of who could score the most the soonest with the least amount of errors.

Mike Mitchell, playing one of his best offensive and defensive games of the year, stuck in 28 points to be Buff high man. Hill hit 23 before fouling out with 2:12 remaining in the game.

Dale Blaut had his work cut out for him as he covered Criss man-to-man and kept the feisty 5-8 guard under toe.

The man who almost made the difference for the Aggies was all-American candidate Jimmy Collins, who hit 28 points, most of them on 20-foot jumpers.

The Aggies' other all-American candidate Sam Lacey, 6-9 center, hit 22 points.

The win put the Buffs' record at 16-6 for the season while dropping NMSU to a 21-3 standard.

With the victory, the Buffs can now be assured of a more

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Dr. Philip Coldwell spoke here Friday night and dealt mostly with inflation.

Dr. Coldwell made a plea for cooperation from the public to halt the money disease which laps up life savings like a fire in a tinder box.

He didn't mention the prime culprit in the spending spree that is taking this country to financial ruin. I am referring to the federal government itself.

The government is the nation's biggest employer. It has advanced wages far more rapidly than the increase of productivity. I'm no economist but it doesn't take a genius to figure that if you increase the supply of money without increasing available goods inflation will result.

That is just what happens when wage increases are not accompanied by a corresponding increase in productivity.

Dr. Coldwell complained that the 10 percent income tax surcharge didn't halt the upward spiral.

Of course it didn't! It took the money out of the pockets of people who might not have gone out and squandered it and put it in the hands of bureaucrats who are notorious spendthrifts.

They're spendthrifts mostly because it isn't their money they're spending. They talk about a billion dollars like it was nothing and don't seem to realize that a billion dollars is a stack of thousand dollar bills 58 feet high.

Dr. Coldwell talked about curbing inflation while the federal government has just conferred whopping raises on congressmen and the President. This inevitably will result in corresponding raises to all government workers which will result in whopping wage increases for workers in industry. All this without increasing production by as much as one tail light.

So what happens? Prices go up. This is not so bad for the people who get pay raises but how about old folks and other people who are depending on money saved when times were not so lush? These are the real losers.

If our economy continues to inflate at its current rate, I don't see how anyone will be able to save enough for his old age.

Even the most affluent among us will have no assurance that they will not be facing the dim prospect of eventually becoming wards of the state.

Dr. Coldwell told his listeners that interest rates currently are the highest since the Civil War and that inflation is gobbling up purchasing power of the dollar at an alarming rate of 4 to 5 percent.

Liberal Democratic regimes have governed this country 28 of the past 36 years but look out for H. M. Baggerly, editor of The Tulia Herald who attended the banquet, to lay our economic woes at the feet of Richard Nixon.

After all Nixon has been in office a whole month and this would be good Baggerly logic.

Mark Wayne Mathews, a 17-year-old Canyon High School youngster, was the victim of a beating Tuesday night of last week.

Since that time I have heard of several efforts to impugn the Mathews boy's good character. Stories were circulated to the effect that the youngster has been a trouble maker in school, that he has been put off the school bus for creating disturbances and that he was kicked out of an Amarillo school for misbehavior.

These stories simply are not true.

I checked with school officials at Tascosa School in Amarillo, at Canyon High School and even at Rex Reeves Elementary School where Mark entered the Canyon school system as a fifth grader.

None of the officials with whom I talked could remember Mark having been called into the office for disciplinary reasons a single time.

"I'd have known it if Mark had ever caused any trouble on the school bus," said Dave Corley at Canyon High School. "He hasn't even been in the office for anything."

A similar report came from Hobart McDonald, who was principal at CHS through the past school term. Mark's coaches speak well of him.

I spent a great deal of Saturday checking on Mark. I think this young man deserves to have the record set straight in regard to his character.

Conants Visit With Relatives

The Conant family was formerly stationed in Hawaii for three years. They departed Wednesday for assignment in civil engineering department at Malmstrom Air Force Base in Montana.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

Another eminent authority has joined the increasing number of commentators who view the current social unrest realistically, and are telling it like it is. Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, a distinguished psychiatrist at the University of Chicago, says that many of the student malcontents are paranoiacs in need of psychiatric care.

Dr. Bettelheim agrees with police authorities that the leaders of student rebellions are not necessarily mentally ill; they know exactly what they are doing: They are deliberately instigating a revolution, and they are using the sick students to gain their nefarious ends.

The average American is probably unaware that mental illness is almost as prevalent as the common cold in our Country. One half of all the hospital beds in America are occupied by mental patients. And many of the other beds are filled with people suffering from psychosomatic ills, or victims of accidents caused by excessive emotional stress or nervous tension.

One out of every then Americans is confined to a mental hospital at some time in his life. Medical authorities estimate one out of every four Amercans would profit from psychiatric treatment.

A survey made in the state of New York found one out of every three persons interviewed suffering from emotional disturbances serious enough to interfere with their daily lives.

The most difficult aspect of mental illness is that the victims almost invariably believe that they are perfectly sane; they are convinced it is the healthy majority that is sick. The hippies and other malcontents who are screaming about our "sick society," and trying their best to wreck our established institutions, are quite sure that the people with normal love and work relationships, who are living happy, productive lives, are the sick ones.

The authorities commissioned to explore the dynamics behind the riots and student unrest have consistently ignored the mental and emotional make-up of the rioters, and their revolutionary leaders, and blamed the entire problem upon the stable majority who have been busy carrying on the work of the world.

Perhaps we have no more paranoiacs now than we had a generation or two ago. But at that time not so many of them were trying to go to college.

One emotionally disturbed youngster who is cared for and protected by his family is not likely to cause much trouble to society--even if he does not get well. But when paranoiacs congregate freely, whether it is in a pool hall, a back alley, or on a college campus, there is sure to be trouble.

When difficult lesson assignments are added to all the other adjustments the young adult has to make, the paranoiac cannot take the pressure; he must rebel or break. If our dissidents are sick, should we sit idly by while they destroy our Nation, or should we club them into submission? Neither course of action seems justified.

Few problems are ever solved without some personal responsibility. If the parents, or adults reponsible for the dirty, shaggy, destructive rabble would see to it that their paranoid youngsters were committed for psychiatric treatment, the policemen could return to their precincts; colleges could get on with educating the normal, healthy majority of America's youth, and many young lives could be salvaged.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. Troy Martin, Editor
The Canyon News
Canyon, Texas

Dear Editor:

For the Randall County Courthouse recently, bids were made for 157.89 square yards of carpet. I understand Lustrom Carpet Sales was low bidder at $1,787.31, Casey Carpet Co. got the job at $2,492.60.

Who is the county official responsible for this, and why wasn't the taxpayer given the benefit of this savings of $705.29? Also, I would like to know if all bids were handled in this manner? We feel that elected officials should practice economy as we taxpayers must to pay the bills.

A Taxpayer
(Name on file)

Note; I believe Bill Rice Carpet was second low bidder and didn't get the job either.

'TEXAS' Schedules Auditions

Final auditions for parts in the 1969 version of "TEXAS" will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in the Branding Iron Theatre on the West Texas State University campus.

Dancing applicants will be auditioned at 3 p.m. by Neil Hess, choreographer.

Directors of the play said applicants should be prepared to give a memorized selection from a play which would show characterization and a change of mood.

In addition, they said, applicants should attend with one prepared musical number and music for an accompanist. Dancers should bring appropriate work-out clothing.

The cast will report June 1 for a month of rehearsal. The show runs from June 27 to Sept. 1.

Last auditions of the season will be in Dallas from 9 a.m. to noon at El Centro College.

Shares Three Favorites

BY LORENA MILLER

Mrs. Gene Crowder shares three favorite recipes with our readers this week including Fried Meat Pies, Fruit Cake and Lemon Surprise Cake.

The former Marita Barnes, Mrs. Crowder was raised at Quanah and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barnes. Her twin sister, Mrs. Jeff (Lanita) Tidmore, lives in Quanah and two younger brothers, Jimmy and Gary, are still at home in Quanah.

She graduated from Quanah High School and earned a BS in education from West Texas State University in August 1965. She has since taught two years of public school, having taught fourth grade at Tulia and second grade at Rex Reeves Elementary here.

Mrs. Crowder and her husband were married in November 1965.

He was from Oklahoma City where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Crowder, still reside. His sisters, Mrs. Benny Brown and Mrs. Bill Smith, reside in Oklahoma City and a brother, Melvin Crowder, is at Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio.

He graduated from Blanchard High School in Oklahoma and earned the BS at Central State College in Edmond, Oklahoma, the master's degree at the University of Florida in Gainesville and the Ph. D. at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater. He was been associated with the chemistry department at West Texas State Universty since 1964.

The Crowders have a six-month-old son, Kevin Scott.

They attend the First Baptist Church of Canyon, where she teaches a Primary III department in Sunday School.

Mrs. Crowder said that "she likes all types of sewing and has a special love for needlepoint and handwork". She said her husband enjoys playing golf.

The recipes she shares are:

FRIED MEAT PIES

1 lb. ground meat
1 med. onion, minced
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. black pepper
3 Tbsp. chopped bell pepper
1/4 tsp. garlic powder
1/4 cup water
1/2 cup tomato catsup

Cook meat in skillet 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add all ingredients except catsup. Cover and cook slowly for 20 minutes. Remove from heat and add catsup. Let cool while making crust.

CRUST:

4 cups flour
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
3/4 tsp. salt.
Enough water for soft dough

Mix as for pie crust. Cut in biscuit size pieces and roll to medium thin.

Add a rounded spoonful of meat in center of dough. Fold side of dough over to other edge. Moisten edges of dough with water and mash together with fork.

Fry in deep fat at 400 degrees. Serve with tossed salad and baked beans. May be fried ahead and stored in refrigerator--to serve just heat in foil.

Dough may also be used for fried fruit pies.

Cherry filling:

1 can red cherries
2 heaping Tbsp. flour
1 1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla

Mix sugar and flour together and stir into cherries. Cook to prevent scorch. Remove filling in center of dough rounds and finish as with meat pies.

FRUIT CAKE

1 can flake coconut
2 pkgs. candied cherries
2 cups whole pecans
1 pkg. dates (cut in half)
1 can sweetened condensed milk

Mix ingredients well. Line loaf pan with heavy duty foil. Press cake mixture into pan and cover with foil.

Bake one hour and 55 minutes at 250 degrees. Uncover cake for the final five minutes of baking to brown on top.

LEMON SURPRISE CAKE

1 pkg. yellow cake mix
1 pkg. lemon jello
2/3 cup cooking oil
2/3 cup apricot nectar
4 eggs, well beaten.

Add dry jello to cake mix. Blend in eggs, oil and apricot nectar. Beat at medium speed for about two minutes.

Bake in greased and floured tube cake pan for 40-45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Glaze cake with a mixture combining juice of one lemon and enough powdered sugar for a thin mixutre. Drizzle over cake.

Water may be substituted for the apricot nectar, but don't use both.

Conference last summer. Simms received another fellowship to the Rocky Mountainn Writers Workshop in Boulder, Colorado where he worked with Nelson Algren, author of "Walk on the Wild Side", "Man With the Golden Arm" and others.

"The Passing of An Actor" was premiered on the Branding Iron Theatre stage here before the play was published in a series called 'TEXAS' Originals,' which was produced last summer.

The trilogy of plays "Variations on An Untitled Theme" is the result of two years study and work by the author. The script for "Passing of An Actor" has now been published and will be released in the 1969-70 Dramatists Play Service Catalogue from New York City, which specializes in leasing plays to community and educational theatre groups.

The production is being directed by William A. Moore with Mrs. William A. Moore as acting coach and sets are designed by James Kemmerling.

"The Acting Lesson" will feature Stephen Hunter as the teacher, Terry Trice as pupil one, Mary Mitchell as the pupiless, and Thomas Stansbury as pupil two.

The unpublished "Miss Farnsworth" will have a cast of John King as Ralph, James Meeks as Hymie, Celia Gaines Stack as Miss Farnsworth, and Frank Latson as Mr. Johnston.

"The Passing of an Actor" will be presented by the original cast from last August. Repeating their roles will be Richard King as the old actor, Thomas Stansbury as Actor Y, Cloetta Fullbright as the actress and John Brandon as actor Z. The original was directed last summer by John Gordon.

money would go out of town in order to purchase securities as surety for the deposits.

He said the drain of this money would penalize the community.

Levens took exception to a statement by Adams on the "limited financial status" of West Texas State Bank and Western National.

"If we could not handle it we wouldn't have bid it," said the West Texas State Bank president. "We are prepared to serve the court with safe keeping receipts for any amount."

Adams told the court that if the county changes depositories now the county would lose some $8,900 in interest on county money presently on time deposit at First National Bank.

The county presently has $243,069 on time deposit at that bank which currently is serving as depository. This money is drawing 4 percent interest but at least a portion of it is invested beyond the date of the county's depository contract with the bank.

The $8,900 mentioned by Adams represents interest which would be earned by March 1.

Adams contends that if the depository is changed the money must immediately be withdrawn and the county would forfeit the interest since no interest may legally be paid on a time deposit before its maturity.

Two time deposits totaling $160,000 mature March 12, 1969. Two deposits totaling $28,000 mature April 3 and one for $50,000 matures May 5. One deposit for $5,069 matures Dec. 27, 1969.

The time deposits were made by Mrs. Ruth Hill, county treasurer.

"I was just doing what the commissioners told me to do," declared Mrs. Hill.

To increase the dilemma, no one seems absolutely certain when the present depository contract with First National Bank terminates.

Attorneys were studying the problem at mid-week. There appears to be some question as to whether the contract terminates with the second February meeting of commissioners court at which time the law stipulates that a county depository be named for two years or 60 days thereafter. First National officials say there is no termination or beginning date on the current depository contract.

If the current depository contract is retained for 60 days following the meeting, then $188,000 of the county's time deposits would have matured before its termination.

Judge Brown says the law is nebulous on the time a depository actually must be chosen and provides that if none is selected at the second February meeting it may be chosen at a subsequent meeting.

Bidders Monday were asked to state verbally what interest rate they would be willing to pay in return for being named county depository. Each declared his firm would pay the maximum rate.

Western National President John Stevens said he favored splitting up the county funds dividing them among the county's three banks.

Both Levens and Adams said they would not be interested in the funds at the maximum rate under such an arrangement.

In other business, commissioners agreed to make a $1,293.35 adjustment in Randall County's portion of the expenses of the 47th District Court probation department.

The court also purchased some additional furniture for the court house annex.

George Blackwell Agency was appointed to handle the county's insurance. The agency will receive 6 percent of gross premium with the remainder of the commission to be divided among Randall County agencies which have been in business as long as three years.

County Clerk Leroy Hutton was authorized to advertise for bids for some supplies for his office.

WN Bank Increase Capital

Western National Bank, located in South Amarillo in Randall County, has announced an increase in capital and a building program.

The announcement was made Wednesday by John Stevens, president of the firm.

"The investors of Western National Bank, with confidence in the community and growth of Amarillo, have increased the capital of the bank more than $170,000 to provide for the increasing needs of the community," said Stevens in making the announcement.

"They also have on the drawing board a new building to enhance the area they serve. "The building will contain multiple stories and be of modern architecture."

bringing Mississippi water to the Plains has been established and that most of the barriers are now political.

Godwin pointed out that 500,000,000 acre feet of water flows into the Gulf unused from the Mississippi each year and that this area would require only about 20,000,000 acre feet annually.

He said estimates are that the project will cost about $11 billion with $8 billion coming in a federal loan and possibly $3 billion from the state of Texas.

Proponents hope to see the project completed by 1985. The money would be repaid over a long period of time, possibly 50 to 100 years.

"We need to sell the value of this area to the rest of the people of the United States," said Godwin pointing out that this area has little raw power in Congress from which the funds must come.

He suggested a political sub-division made up of participating counties with small taxing powers. "We will have to have money to do this selling job," he declared.

Godwin mentioned a similar project in California in which water was taken out of Northern California and lifted over a mountain range to the southern part of the state.

They have nine full-time employees in Washington doing a selling job all the time, the speaker said.

"This is a big job," said Kendrick. "It will take professional public relations men, national magazine, radio and television advertising.

The speakers roughly estimated that a half million dollars a year would be sufficient to conduct the advertising and educational campaign.

They emphasized that town and city people of this area must be shown that the agricultural economy of the area is important to city economy.

Cleavinger told the group of how a water association was organized in Oldham County.

Godwin said every county in the area should establish a voice in Water, Inc.

Zoning Board Approves Site For Trailer

The City Zoning Commission approved Monday a request for special permit presented by Mrs. Joy J. Somerville to locate a mobile home in an area now zoned for multiple family use.

Mrs. Somerville told commissioners she wishes to place the trailer between 7th Street and 8th Street on 3rd Avenue.

She said the trailer is 12 feet by 60 feet.

The City Commission must also approve the location before a special use permit is issued.

Red Cross Sets Goal For County Fund Drive

Randall County chapter of the American Red Cross has set a goal for the county of $2,373, according to chairman, Jerry LaGrone.

"This past year numerous local families have been aided through the Red Cross with special efforts made for servicemen's families who are stationed in Vietnam," said LaGrone.

Kenneth Intfeld, disaster representative for the Red Cross from St. Louis area, has spoken at recent meetings of the Canyon Rotary Club, Lion's Club and Kiwanis Club. Intfeld has been with the Red Cross disaster field for a period of three years covering disaster areas from Fairbanks, Alaska to McAllen, Texas.

The county fund campaign will begin in early March with a house-to-house campaign to be directed by the Tierra Blanca chapter of National Secretaries Association. Mrs. George Ritter will serve as club chairman for the canvas.

The Red Cross drive will also include a university campaign, directed by Ken Olson, and the business and advance gifts drives with Bill Davis and Joe Gidden as co-chairmen.

Lindsey ....

ster came to Canyon in 1930.

He has been a mechanic, businessman and farmer in this community since that time.

He has served on the school board, Chamber of Commerce board, city commission and currently is serving his second term as mayor.

His wife is Mrs. Katherine Finley Lindsey.

Dr. Philip E. Coldwell told the banquet group that inflation can be halted in this country but that the government will need the people's help to do it.

He said prices went up 4 percent last year and may go up 5 percent this year. Dr. Coldwell is president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

He said fear of inflation has caused people to bid for goods and services at an unprecendented rate and this has brought about more of the inflation they feared in the first place.

He noted some of the things Federal Reserve is doing to restrain inflation.

"You can defeat us if you continue to plan more plants and keep spending and keep the spiral going," he declared.

He said the price of credit is higher than at any other time since the Civil War. The prime rate is 7 percent and the average rate is 9 to 10 percent, he said.

Dr. Coldwell was introduced by W. E. "Bill" Adams, president of First National Bank in Canyon. Guests were introduced by JoZach Byrd, retiring Chamber president, and directors and past directors were introduced by Dean House, new Chamber president.

for approval.

It is estimated, according to Milner's report, that the program total cost will be $14,000 and that Canyon's pro-rata share in the plan will be $600. If approved the members of the committee will seek to raise the money to pay for the local share.

Points to be promoted for Canyon include "TEXAS" the outdoor musical drama, Palo Duro Canyon, Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, West Texas State University and Buffalo Lake.

Bernard Warren is serving as chairman for the tourist development committee for the Chamber of Commerce here. Other members present at Monday's meeting were C. B. McClure, B. C. Taylor, Elon Baker, Raymond Raillard and Frank Wiginton.

Also on the committee, but not present, were Charles Allen, JoZach Byrd, Johnnie McBroom, Joe Carver, Paul Ferguson and LeRoy Hutton. Guests included Joe Gidden and Larry Milner.

Permit ....

known that door-to-door salesmen in Canyon are required to have a permit from the city to sell.

Chief of Police Calvin Costley said such con-games, though not frequently used here, are played at times and housewives should be on guard.

Costley said Canyon residents should ask any door-to-door salesman for the city-issued permit.

He said for a salesman to receive a permit, his company must apply, post a $2,000 bond and designate him as the salesman.

Costley said the permit also costs the companies $25. This money is used by the city clerk to check with various agencies to insure that the companies are legitimate.

He said the salesmen carry the permit cards and housewives should ask to see the permits of any salesman.

Men selling a service, such as tree trimming or exterminating, however, are not required to have a permit.

Costley warned that sometimes these services can be fraudulent. He suggested that, when approached by a tree trimmer or exterminator, the resident "have them make a bid and then check with some other company to make sure their deal wasn't out of line."

He suggested that persons soliciting funds for organizations also be checked on by the residents through the Better Business Bureau or the Police Department.

Challenges Of Family Living Basis For HD Agent's Program

"The Hub of the Wheel" of society is the family emphasizes Mrs. Becky Hall, home demonstration agent, as she is this month presenting a series of programs for home demonstration clubs and other interested groups on the Challenge of Growth in Family Living.

"The family is a stablizer in a rapidly changing world with changing roles of family members," said Mrs. Hall. "Change is normal but the 'hub' of society or the family must be continually strengthened to fill its supportive role.

"Each generation must make its contribution as the family faces the stress of change," she said.

"The 'Big Four' of the many predators that threaten family life are DIVORCE-DISEASE--DEPENDENCY--and DELINQUENCY--or the 'Big D's'.

"Strong people are needed to build strong foundations and a good marriage. They need to be healthy--physically, mentally, socially, emotionally and spiritually.

"A completely healthy person has strong mind, body and soul--and is at peace within and without."

In her program, Mrs. Hall distributes a booklet "Mental Health is 1-2-3" which is published by the National Association of Mental Health and states that: 1. They feel comfortable about themselves; 2. They feel right about other people; and 3. They are able to meet the demands of life.

"One of the top concerns in American family life today is the understanding gap among generations," continued Mrs. Hall. "The communication gap needs to be closed. Pressures open the gap wider.

"Parents need to realize they are putting many of the pressures on their children.

"They want their child to achieve, go to the best schools, and all," she said quoting Dr. Ed Pope. Dr. Pope also feels the adolescent should become more sensitive to the parent's situation.

"Perhaps our greatest need is better communication in a confused world", continued Mrs. Hall as she quoted Dr. Hester Turner, executive vice president of the national executive director and secretary of Camp Fire Girls, Inc. "dialogue or communication--listen without trying to finish the sentence. Listen to kids--listen to teenagers. They don't want to be called youths. They like to be kids--then teenagers and then adults.

"Listen to the words they use, and let them know you can listen. You can talk, discuss and carry on a dialogue without changing it.

"Remember that youngsters think the key to the moment is 'now'. How will they learn the best is yet-to-come if we do not believe each stage in the life cycle should prepare a person for future stages?

"If adults are the 'how' generation they should be able to communicate with the 'now' generation. Human nature has not changed--perhaps the vocabulary and in some cases the values have, but there needs to be a recognition by all ages of the validity of the ways of each generation and an appreciation of one's background is a treasury of uniqueness."

Reaching the contracting years, Mrs. Hall concluded "dying is universal, normal, variable and inevitable. Aging and illness do not necessarily coincide.

"Remember age is a quality of the mind. Creative hobbies can help the retired citizen fill the 'empty hours' and there is a need for developing leisure time activity for all ages."

In conclusion she said "The famous 'generation gap' is not an American invention--it is a part of the family conflict and growth--and is universally worldwide."

FAMILY LIVING through the stages of "beginning", "expanding", "launching", and "contracting" are displayed in connection with a program given this month by home demonstration agent, Becky Hall.

University Study Club Topic Youth Education

Shown with Mrs. Jacobs are Mrs. E. E. Perkins, center, who discussed the motor perceptual skills in remedial reading, and Mrs. Duane Howard, USC member, right.

"Education of Youth--A Community Responsibility" was the program introduced by Mrs. Bob Lindsey at the University Study Club meeting Friday at the Developmental Vision Reading Clinic, 405 Fourteenth Street.

Mrs. Jerry Jacobs, clinician at the Developmental Vision Reading Clinic, presented methods and demonstrated equipment used to help children with vision problems other than corrective eye sight. She explained how many average and above-average children do not excell in school because of an unrecognized eye problem and lack of motor perceptual skills.

Mrs. Wm. B. Davis, club president, conducted a brief business meeting reminding members to take good useable clothing for children to Rex Reeves Elementary School for distribution to children as needed.

Club members were also reminded of the Top of Texas Federation convention to be held March 27-28 at Dalhart.
